Hear from expert panelists on the threat to universal health care in Canada

Wendell Potter

Author, Health Policy Expert, Watchdog

Wendell Potter is former head of communications at Cigna, a top health insurance company. Since he left in 2008, Wendell worked tirelessly as an outspoken critic of corporate PR and the distortion and fear manufactured by the U.S. health insurance industry. The industry PR juggernaut spends millions lobbying and funding front groups posing as 'patient' or 'grassroots' groups. Wendell exposes the dirty war waged by the for-profit health care industry and his decision to leave the dark side and work for the public good in his book Deadly Spin: <http://wendellpotter.com/deadlyspin/>

Michael McBane

Coordinator, Canadian Health Coalition

Michael McBane is the national coordinator (since 1995) of the Canadian Health Coalition in Ottawa. He has 25 years experience working in coalitions on issues relating to Medicare, privatization, commercialization, public health regulation, food and drug safety, the Precautionary Principle, international trade and economic justice. Author of Ill-Health Canada: Putting Food and Drug Company Profits Ahead of Safety, published by the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives in 2005. He studied political science and theology in Ottawa and at l'Institut catholique de Paris.
